PERSONAL INFORMATION

About Myself:

I come from a well-mannered practicing middle-class family with strong Islamic beliefs. A hard-working individual who is empathetic, creative, and determined with my future goals. Moreover, I respect the ethics & opinions of others and am a good listener. Traveling and learning new things is a passion that I love doing. A great sense of humor and is always out to make people happy and laugh. After all, it is a hard world we live in and a smile can make a difference. Being patient and critical thinking traits that can manage every censorious situation.

I am looking for a religious, pious, and humble person with whom I would love to travel the journey to paradise. A nurturing and caring mother to my children, do good to my parents, and devote myself to our Creator.
